

Transitional Regulations

The developed further Master's program offered by the Chair of Production and Logistics will be available from summer semester 2024. Students who have already partially completed or started examinations in the previous Module II will be able to continue their studies according to the previous study plan or change modules:

- The seminar "Recent developments in production and logistics management" (2 SWS, 3.5 CP), which was previously included in Module II, can be taken for the last time in summer semester 2024.
- The 60-minute examination for the lecture "Service operations management" (2 SWS, 4.0 CP) previously included in Module II can be taken for the last time in summer semester 2024.
- The 60-minute examination for the lecture "Industrial Innovation Management" (2 SWS, 3.5 CP) previously included in Module II can be taken for the last time in the winter term 2023/24.
- Students who have only taken one examination in Module II (successfully or unsuccessfully) are permitted to change modules upon application to the Examinations Office.
- Students who have only failed the examinations in Module II will be permitted to change modules upon application to the Examinations Office.